

Overview of the Bright Angel Park Survey Results

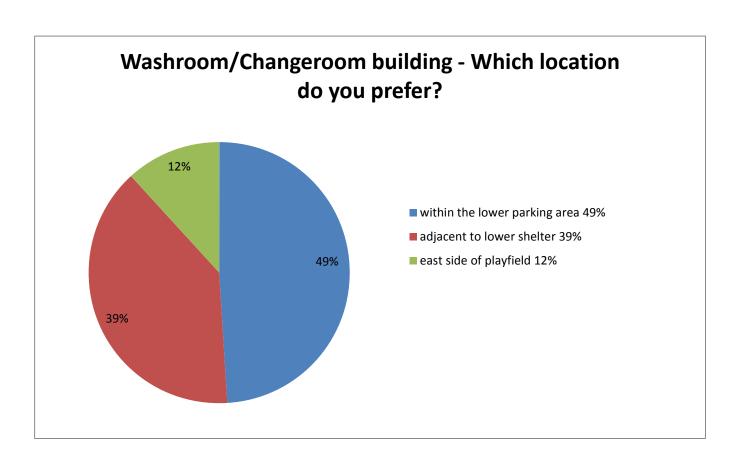

The following statistics, graphs and comments have been generated from the survey results of the three different surveys that have occurred at Bright Angel Park. The complete survey results will be included in the Management Plan. Results from the 202 surveys have produced valuable information and insight into the past, present and future use of the park.

1	Camping is something the park offers but is it really helping or detracting from park experience. Does the CVRD make or lose money on it? What are the costs associated with it.	Jan 10, 2013 12:11 PM
2	maintain road keep washrooms clean more garbage cans that are emptied	Jan 10, 2013 12:00 PM
3	purchase the property north of Howie Road North. It is not used by the present owner and would never be any benefit to his farming operation. What about a donation?	Jan 10, 2013 11:16 AM

7	Use what is there and improve instead of a total rebuild	Dec 21, 2012 2:31 PM
8	It is one of our community jewels. Any change needs to have community input and all those responsible for this effort have my thanks and congratulations	Dec 21, 2012 1:37 PM
9	Leave it simpledon't over manage it into obscurity.	Dec 21, 2012 1:12 PM
10	leave group campsite with vehicle access	Dec 21, 2012 12:58 PM
11	I totally agree with the CVRDs recent initiative to close the RV usage of the Park. As a Class C park this use doesn't fit well with the historical objectives. If campers are concerned about facilities perhaps some consideration could be given to improving the current camping amenities. In my experience living adjacent to the park the RV uses comes with loud campers that could disturb the natural environment in the park. Any amenity upgrades need to be fully green and should also be as close to zero impact as possible.	Dec 20, 2012 3:58 PM
12	Generally I support it.	Dec 19, 2012 4:17 PM
13	Please keep it as naturaly as possible. Having tennis courts, sports courts, etc. as in the list above would detract from the natural beauty of the park. Two of my brothers actually helped build the original suspension bridge and I have been going to the park all my life. I would hate to see it "over-developed".	Dec 6, 2012 11:16 AM
14	More people in the immediate vicinity would walk to the park if Koksilah was a safe road for walking. Koksilah needs a wider shoulder with a gravel path. Is there a way that this park could be joined by a trail system to the Trans Canada Trail or to the Glenora trail head or to Duncan trails?	Dec 5, 2012 11:11 PM
15	Strongly think that this small jewel of a park is under threat and cannot sustain higher levels of use and maintain its ecological integrity which would be shameful. We have plenty of green fields and playgrounds etc. elsewhere - people come to Bright Angel for the forest, birds, river etc. and even if they don't come it is an important conservation piece in this part of the Koksilah watershed. I would be undeveloping this park for recreational use not developing itjust up the road at the HUB is plenty of room for recreation a trail along the tracks from	Dec 5, 2012 10:05 PM

	the park to the station would be a good investment for recreation. I'd also look at adding to the Park when "natural" adjacent lands come up for sale.
16	Glenora Trail used to be a wonderful riverside trail where my family could go to re-connect with nature - truly one of the best aspects of life in Cowichan Valley. When the new playground when in, I thought it would be awesome, but I couldn't be more wrong. Its a wonderful playground that my son loves, but if we go to Glenora Trail now, I sit on a bench looking at an artificial play structure while he plays. We don't have time to do both in one visit, and the playground overshadows the amazing natural asset that is there - no child wants to walk past that to go play with stones. Yet, if it wasn't there, they'd love playing with stones. Please don't do that to Bright Angel too. If we want a playground - there are plenty of great ones in Cowichan Valley - Bright Angel is one of the few "natural playgrounds" that urban park designers everywhere are seeking to replicate, and we already have. http://www.naturalplaygrounds.ca/files/Globe_and_Mail~Nature,_Risk_&_Play_10.23.12.pdf	Dec 5, 2012 2:09 PM
17	Less about the individual uses, keep it simple in the campground. Extra use RV's take up a lot of energy to keep up. Support local culture with an interpretive centre and sponsored interpretive walks. Make the major areas more disability accessible. Keep the dogs off leash in one area away from where children can be startled by their exuberance.	Dec 4, 2012 4:37 PM

19	Limit camping in the park. Does the park still need to provide camping? My family can not use the park at times because the campers have taken over and there are not enough parking spaces.	Nov 27, 2012 4:16 PM
20	Try to save as much of taxpayers' money as possible.	Nov 27, 2012 1:07 PM
21	It is a beautiful NATURAL area - let's keep it that way - but enhance what is already there. Tennis courts, Sport courts, community gardens, amphitheatres all take valuable natural space, require greater upkeep and can be found in more inhabited areas.	Nov 19, 2012 12:08 PM
